

Participate in the Northern Tier CEDS Survey

The Northern Tier Regional Planning and Development Commission (NTRPDC) is updating their Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS). The planning process is intended to bring public and private sectors together to provide a baseline of information, set forth goals and establish targeted strategies and performance measures for documenting successful economic and community development. This integration of coordinated economic development also provides for the sharing of talent and resources and provides the flexibility to adapt to regional economic conditions. The CEDS is designed to encourage the exchange of meaningful strategies on how communities can soundly manage growth and development to efficiently and effectively link Land Use, Transportation, and Economic Development decision-making at a regional level. As a part of this process, The Institute was commissioned to deploy an electronic survey to community members of the five-county region. As we navigate the ever-changing landscape of economic development, your insights and feedback are critical. The CEDS survey provides a unique opportunity for you to influence decisions and help us design strategies that will enhance the prosperity and well-being of our communities. Your participation in the CEDS survey is a tangible way to contribute to the planning for our region.

Participants who complete the survey within the first ten days the survey is open will be entered into a drawing to win one of two $100 gift cards.
